Welcome
Juliana!!!

Welcome Juliana to Chandler Jewish Playgroup! We're looking forward to spending a great year learning and growing with you and we all had so much fun playing with you this week! This was the perfect week for Juliana to join our Playgroup because we learned all about welcoming guests into our home (and school!). We learned this from our patriarch Avraham, after he had a bris when he was 99 years old, he went out of his house to look for guests to bring into his home! We made welcome mats and signs to have near our door at home so that we can remember to welcome guests just like Avraham! Whenever someone wanted to come inside our tent (aka the library) we made sure to welcome them in right away. Also in the parsha, there was an angel who came to visit Avraham after his bris. We made cards to give to people who aren't feeling well- we hope that will cheer them up just like the angel cheered up Avraham! Refuah Shlaima is what we said to Maliya when we called her to tell her we hope she feels better.

We also started learning about our 5 senses this week. We use our hands to touch things- and to tell if something is soft, or rough, or sticky, or smooth. We made touch books that have all sorts of different materials in them- the cotton balls were very fluffy but the sandpaper was sharp and didn't feel so good on our hands. We use our eyes to see things- our eyes are so special they can see in the dark and the light! We have a lot of different eye colors in our school as well- half of us have brown eyes and the other half has blue! Our letter of the week was E- E for eggs and eggshells and elephants! We are getting so good at recognizing and writing our letters! Sorry newsletter came a little bit late this week! Looking forward to another great week!
